Cassandra Marcus
Editorial Page Editor
The Medford Chronicle
228 Fifth Street
Medford, KS 54211

Dear Ms. Marcus:

(A)

(1) I am a long-time resident of this city and who wishes to respond to your editorial of May 24. (2) Because I have agreed with many of your previous editorials, I do not agree with your position regarding the proposed shopping mall on the south end of town. (3) I can see no value in building a four-lane highway through Medford simply to accommodate several huge chain stores.

(B)

(4) I am amazed you would support the city councils plan to widen Sycamore Street and turn it into a highway, a plan that will lead to much unhappiness and bear much criticism. (5) Medford have always been a safe, quiet town with very little traffic. (6) It will change the quality of life in Medford with the proposed shopping mall. (7) Our town will never again enjoy the advantages of being a tightly-knit community. (8) We will no longer be a place where all of the residents knew the business owners personally.

(C)

(9) In addition to these problems, the proposed mall could have even more serious consequences. (10) Many of our local businesses are already struggling to survive, this plan may put those places out of business altogether. (11) Are the people of Medford ready to see Marvin's Hardware, whose owners have been in the same location for more than seventy-five years, desert its location forever? (12) Do we want to loose our local shoe, clothing, and variety stores?

(D)

(13) Ms. Marcus, I do not understand your decision to support the changes that this mall will surely bring to Medford. (14) You have great influence in this community. (15) Please reconsider your position. (16) Support those of us who want to keep our town quiet and local merchants in business.

Sincerely,
A.D. Kendrick

Cowgirls

(A)

A. Who was the first rodeo cowgirls? B. While some of the earliest cowgirls were products of the American West, where they learned their skills on a ranch or farm, others came from different backgrounds. C. One had emigrated from Norway, another was a hairdresser from New York, and still another learned to ride horses on a Georgia plantation. D. Attracted by the excitement, glory, and possible financial rewards, this first group of daredevil riders and ropers rose to prominence in the first half of the 1900s.

(B)

B. Lucille Mulhall and Bertha Kalpernik were two of the first rodeo cowgirls. (6) As a teenager, Mulhall rode and put on a roping exhibition in a public celebration where Teddy Roosevelt was a guest. (7) During a visit to the Mulhall family's ranch Roosevelt witnessed Lucille's breathtaking ride on an outlaw horse. (8) Impressed by her skill and daring, Roosevelt later inviting Mulhall to lead the inaugural procession when he took office as president of the United States. (9) Kalpernik is believed to be the first cowgirl to ride a bucking horse in serious competition. (10) Around 1900, she rode 100 miles from Colorado to Wyoming to enter the previously all-male rodeo. (11) She won on a horse named Tombstone. (12) She rode him all the way back to Colorado! (13) Roy Rogers named his horse "Trigger" and Gene Autry, another famous singing cowboy, had a horse named "Champ." (14) A year later, Kalpernik becomes the star performer in a Wild West show and continued competing in top rodeos held throughout the country. (15) As true pioneers those women and many others are part of the history and heritage of the West. Material adapted from Milt Riske. Those Magnificent Cowgirls: A History of the Rodeo Cowgirl. Cheyenne: Wyoming Publishing, 1983. Sentence 1 As true pioneers those women and many others are part of the history and heritage of the West.
